

Universal Human Needs Exercise

By Nancy A. Meyer, M.A.

Purpose. The purpose of this WeMentor Universal Human Needs Exercise is to expand ‘relational literacy’ and facilitate your ability to nurture resilient relationships. We always begin with a self-focus.

Asserting self-leadership puts you in a position to increase your influence with others because you are operating from a place of integrity, a knowingness about yourself. When we know how to meet our needs and enjoy the feelings accompanying those met needs, we are incentivized to regularly meet those needs. And, we can readily identify feelings that surface when needs go unmet. Knowing this empowers us to regularly assert meeting our needs because we like how we feel.

From this self-awareness and place of integrity, others’ needs can be noticed and met. Our proficiency as a leader can be expanded as we accurately encourage others to meet their needs. We become allies for one another and express ourselves with ease. A win-win experience.

Self-knowledge releases the propensity to get our needs met unconsciously or through competitive behaviors. Over time, and with practice, expressing healthy ways of getting our needs met strengthens our connection and security in all relationships. Our sense of emotional safety increases.

“Relational literacy is the ability to understand and express healthy ways of relating: as social groups, as individuals, to animals and the environment, and even to ourselves. Our errors are our teachers; they are guides that point us toward greater proficiency and greater awareness, says psychologist, international speaker, and bestselling author of six books, Melanie Joy, Ph.D. In her book, Getting Relationships Right: How to Build Resilience and Thrive in Life, Love, and Work, Melanie writes, “what matters most in this process is how we relate to our mistakes. Even a slight increase in relational literacy can lead to significant improvement.” This exercise is a step in the right relational direction.

How to complete this exercise. Allow yourself about 20-minutes. Identify how you feel by using the WeMentor Self-Awareness Mentoring Journal on the next page. Then, complete the following three parts of this exercise. Appreciate what you learn and use what you learn to take charge of who you next become!

Directions: Circle how you feel, as many feelings as you feel, right now. Your emotions and feelings are not who you are. Feelings are connected to what you are thinking about. This tool brings you into the present moment. You have permission to name and acknowledge your feelings. Express yourself.

Emotions of Inner Peace - Expand thoughts and increase experiences that engage and amplify these feelings:

Validated	Compassionate	Receptive
Aware	Mentally Fluid & Clear	Realistic
Empathic	Powerful	Grounded
Curious	Trust Higher Power	Optimistic
Connected	Observant	Happy
Respectful	Vigor	Kind
Generous in Spirit	Thrilled	Enthusiastic
Joyful	Emotionally Clear & Current	Open Heart/Vulnerable

Emotions of Internal Challenge and Growth - Opportunities to shift your perspective and attract more of what you need to strengthen who you are (learn & grow).

Confused	Discontent	Anticipatory	Mentally Unclear	Challenged
Energy Surge	Overwhelmed	Courageous	Action Oriented	Determined
Uncomfortable	Invested	Insecure	Open, or Receptive	Distracted
Over Committed	Fearful	Pressure	Contemplative	Exhausted
Striving for Clarity	Uncertain	Emotionally Cleansing	Embracing Resistance	Vulnerable

Emotions Signaling Inner Hurt - Healing, forgiveness, and reconnection are needed.

Angry	Resentful	Unforgiving	Humiliated	Guilt
Lonely	Disappointed	Controlling	Unresolved	Misunderstood
Sad, Tearful	Manipulated	Mistrusting	Hopeless	Disconnected
Disillusioned	Wounded	Physical Pain	Weighted Down	Inadequate

Emotions Signaling You to Stop - Figure out what is going on (Shame?), respond constructively.

Revengeful	Exhausted	Belligerent	Numb	Unhappy
Fixing Others	Low Energy	Discouraged	Rage	Irritable
Impatient	Impulsive	Powerless	Irresponsible	Out of Control
Malicious	Vindictive	Annoyed	Agitated	Stuck In A Rut
Overly Responsible	Irrational	Suicidal	Over Extended	Under-whelmed

What have you become aware of?

You are now grounded and ready to learn the list of universal human needs and feelings.

List of Universal Human Needs and Feelings

Self-Leadership Focus: understand and take charge of meeting your needs while encouraging others to do the same. We are social beings, so many of our universal human needs are met with others.

Table 1. The list of Universal Human Needs is from three sources. The Center for Nonviolent Communication. Jeanne Liedtka and Tim Ogilvie's research in The Designing for Growth Field Book (pp. 104-105, 2014). And Dr. Melanie Joy's book on Getting Relationships Right: How to Build Resilience and Thrive in Life, Love, and Work (pp.200-201, 2020).

Brené Brown discovered through her research in Rising Strong (2015) that people who have a strong sense of love and belonging have a deep sense of worthiness. Use this exercise to inspire a strong sense of love and belonging and cultivate a deep sense of worthiness.

Table 3. The list of Universal Human Feelings is from four sources. The Center for Nonviolent Communication. Jeanne Liedtka and Tim Ogilvie's research in The Designing for Growth Field Book (pp. 104-105, 2014). Dr. Melanie Joy's book on Getting Relationships Right: How to Build Resilience and Thrive in Life, Love, and Work (pp.200-201, 2020). And, *from Dr. Brené Brown's Story Rumble Glossary (2015).

1. What have you noticed about your overall feelings when your needs go unmet?
2. How can you integrate this knowledge into creating a home and work culture of love and belonging? Cultures where the fee to admission is to cultivate a deep sense of worthiness and healthy relating.
